THE ATROCITIES IN NORTH CAROLINA.—We have now the sworn testimony of some of the victims of Kirk's cruelties, as taken before Judge Brooks, of the U. S. District Court. On Saturday last quite a batch of Kirk's prisoners were brought before the court. The first case heard was that of Mr. Turner, the editor of the Raleigh Sentinel. The return to the writ was, in substance, "that Kirk had arrested him, by order of somebody, for conspiring, with others not named, to overthrow the Government." When the Judge asked if the prosecution could show sufficient cause for detaining the prisoner any longer in custody, Mr. Boyden, Kirk's attorney, was forced to say, "We have no legal evidence of any kind of the prisoner's guilt, and therefore do not oppose his discharge." In the case of Felix Ross, accused of being accessory to the murder of J. W. Stephens, the answer of Kirk's counsel was, "They were not in possession of a particle of evidence of the prisoner's guilt."

Similar answers were made in respect to several other prisoners, and the Judge ordered the whole of them to be liberated. On the same day Lucian H. Murray made affidavit that on the 27th day of July he was arrested by Lieutenant Burgen—one of Kirk's infamous tools—and on the succeeding night taken out of the camp by Burgen and three men armed with pistols; that Burgen sought to extort from Murray the names of the men who murdered Wyatt Outlaw. Although repeatedly threatened, Murray declared he knew nothing about the murder. Burgen then put a rope round Murray's neck, took him to a tree, and after trying his arm, caused him to be swung up. In a short time he was let down again and asked to confess. He protested his innocence, when Burgen threatened to blow his heart out if "he did not confess." Still refusing, he was again swung up by the neck and kept suspended so long that when he was let down he was unable to speak for some time. They waited until he had recovered his voice. The affidavit thus procured was: "The said Burgen then said, 'Now confess that you saw Moore.' Affiant replied, he could not do it. Burgen replied, 'You must acknowledge it, or I will kill you.' At this time, 'Sergeant, haul him up to that tree and let him hang till 8 o'clock in the morning; then cut him down and bury him under the tree.' After other conversation and threat of killing this affiant, the said Burgen said to this affiant, 'I will now give you until to-morrow night, and if you don't confess, then I will kill you dead.' Affiant replied, 'I will never confess, for I have nothing to confess.' This affiant was then taken back to his cell, afterwards, after being charged to say nothing about what had occurred, and threatened with death if he divulged it."

D. W. Weedon, another of Kirk's prisoners, deposed that he was arrested by Burgen on the 23d of July last; carried to camp; shot at by one of the soldiers, the ball passing near his head; carried from camp to the county jail, where he was manacled and chained to the floor; that in that condition he was insulted and maltreated; had his food thrown to him on the floor and was forbidden to use knife, or fork, or spoon.

Another prisoner, George S. Rogers, deposed that he was arrested by order of Kirk on the charge of knowing something about the murder of Outlaw; that when he denied it, that to force him to confess what he did not know, he was taken from the camp to an adjacent woods, and there hung up by the neck. After suffering great torture, and persisting in his denial, he was finally brought back to the camp and kept a close prisoner until released by Judge Brooks on Tuesday last.

We give these affidavits as specimens of many others showing the atrocious outrages of which the ruffian Kirk and his subordinates, acting under the orders of the instigation of Governor Holden, have been guilty. Burgen has since been arrested and committed to prison in default of bail. Kirk is still at large, although proceedings have already been taken looking to his arrest and punishment. Hold, en, also, is yet to be dealt with, but it is probable that he can only be reached by impeachment. In the meantime there is great rejoicing in Raleigh. When the prisoners released by order of Judge Brooks reached that city yesterday, they received quite an ovation.—They were met by a large crowd of persons on foot, on horseback and in carriages garlanded with flowers, and speeches and congratulations were the order of the day.—Balt. Gazette.

THE OLD GAME.—The following delectable piece of information comes to us through the Pot-smoke (P. M.) Mugs' Journal:

From a private letter received here from New York we learn that the prices of the Pennsylvania coal company for September have been advanced thirty cents per ton over the prices for August.

When it is understood that this intelligence comes from an organ of the Pennsylvania coal monopolists proper warning will be placed upon it. But taken in connection with the following paragraph, which appears in the same column of the same paper, it is plain that the whole scheme is simply an excuse to raise the price of coal:

The next auction of eighty thousand tons of Pennsylvania coal will take place in New York on Wednesday of next week, August 31.

It is in this way the bulls in the coal market prepare the way for a rise in the price of the article, and compel consumers to submit to the advance. Now, it is well known that there is no real necessity or excuse for this advance, except to gratify the avarice of the coal operators and monopolists. The fact that there was already a large stock on hand at the time of shipment prior to the resumption of work by the striking miners is sufficient to disprove that the enhanced price is warranted by a lack of supply. On the contrary, the various wholesale coal merchants have been overstocked all summer, so much so that it has been difficult to obtain transportation to Eastern markets, and now that all the mines are again doing full work, with several months to spare before navigation closes, it is apparent that the whole plot for bulking up prices is but a narrow and sordid one. The advancement in the price of coal at the mines is always taken advantage of by the local retailers to pinch the poor consumers. For instance; if the price is advanced by the companies thirty cents per ton the retailer in New York improves on this at the rate of fifty or a hundred per cent. and thus the poor become eventually the greatest sufferers.—N. Y. Herald.
